About the speakers:

Kevin Hinde- CEO at A3 Architects

Kevin Hinde is the principal shareholder and Director of A3 Architects Johannesburg (Pty)Ltd. He has 35 years of experience running this practice with a specialized focus on International and local government and private sector related planning and infrastructure design. This covers the full spectrum of services associated with a registered Architect's scope of work, including conceptual design, documentation, feasibility analysis and project management. He has a keen interest in hospital design and has been involved with more than 300 hospital projects across Africa in countries including South Africa, Angola, Ghana, Nigeria, DRC and Tanzania.

Kevin has a BArch from the University of the Witwatersrand and belongs to the South African Council of Architects. Since 2015 he has been both an external examiner as well as moderator for final year Architectural students. Kevin often presents to various role players in both the healthcare and architectural fields regarding the latest trends and designs.

Linda Pretorius – Developmental Care Nursing Specialist

Linda Pretorius has graduated from University of Natal (Addington Campus) with a Diploma in Nursing (General, Midwifery and Psychiatry) and Community Health and she pursued a career in Neonatology and Paediatrics. Linda continued to work and run various NICU and PICU's and worked in the United Kingdom before returning to South Africa to work for the Netcare Group in their Hospital Division. She also worked as a Trauma Program Manager. Her love remained for all things neonatal and in 2015 she established the Netcare Ncelisa Human milk bank system. Linda has lectured extensively in the neonatal and paediatric field and presented papers in Botswana and in Mauritius. She has also designed a lecture series for Dräger for the NICU nurses in Zimbabwe.
